The books we'll use to support our 'being me in my world' topic:

Once there was a soft brown toy called Dogger. One of his ears pointed upwards and the other flopped over. His fur was worn in places because he was quite old. He belonged to Dave.
This classic picture book tells the familiar and reassuring story of how a much-loved toy is lost and finally found again.

Three little pigs set off to build new homes for themselves. But someone big and bad soon comes looking for a tasty piggy snack ...
Can the pigs outwit the wicked wolf?

Follow a group of children through a day in their school, where everyone is welcome. A school where children in patkas, hijabs, baseball caps and yarmulkes play side by side. A school where students grow and learn from each other's traditions. A school where diversity is a strength.

Key skills and knowledge we'll be building on...

	To know who a special friend is. To know how to play in a group. To know how to take it in turns with support. To know how you feel. To be a kind friend.		To move in a variety of ways. To balance in different ways.
	To create a Picasso self portrait. To know how to use simple tools. To know how to play a musical instrument.		To know about different celebrations. To know about different families and traditions.
	Why not try this at home?		To know about the changes in weather. To know about our local community. To know where we live. To explore different environments uses our sense.

Why not try this at home?

Can you create your own family picture at home?
